

Bay Business Journal October/November 2005

“Fifty People You Should Know”

Meet 50 amazing personalities that help make greater Green Bay such a great place to work and live.

Tough Love

Raised in a dysfunctional family, Harry Sydney III, former Green Bay Packers player and professional football coach, caught himself chasing stuff instead of substance. He made changes and now helps other men step up to the plate to face their personal issues through his counseling business, My Brother's Keeper. During its 22 months of existence, 350 men and boys ages 11 to 65 have successfully completed his mentoring program. With their eight kids brought together Brady-Bunch style, Sydney says the real hero of his household is his wife, Madonna. She has taught him the true meaning of R-E-S-P-E-C-T, a life lesson that shows up daily in his mentoring work.